MEMORANDUM FOR:

SUBJECT: MAG-Like Groups

In response to your request of 18 May 1973, there are two such groups currently established in the DDS&T.

A. Foreign Missile and Space Analysis Center:

The FMSAC Career Service Panel Advisory Group. This group has a membership of 10 employees composed of two from each division plus one employee to represent the secretaries and a representative from the front office of FMSAC. There are no restrictions on grade outside of the fact that no supervisors are included. The purpose of this group is to improve communications on personnel matters between FMSAC employees and management.

B. National Photographic Interpretation Center:

NPIC established in 1971 the Director's Opportunity Panel. The purpose of the Panel is to develop opportunities for individuals who--for reasons of color, or sex or economic and educational handicaps--have lacked professional qualifications and opportunity advantages available to others. This Panel advises the Director of NPIC on opportunities--or lack of opportunities--at NPIC, new ideas and programs to promote equal opportunity employment and the progress of individuals who have been provided with opportunity positions. There are five members of the Panel whose grades range from GS-15 to GS-06. The current Panel is chaired by a GS-08 black employee and consists of three men and two women (three blacks and two whites).

There is currently under consideration a proposal to establish an NPIC MAG-like group. This panel (if established) will be drawn from various levels of Center employees and will consider a broad range of topics of possible interest and concern to Center management. We will decide whether or not to establish this group within the next month or two.
